PRICES SET HIGH AT FT. McPHERSON ON THE MACKENZIE

Flour $25 a Sack and Everything Else Accordingly Lower River.

DELTA OF ATHABASCA SHOULD GET CHANNEL

Capital's Special Representative Writes from the Biggest Bit of Unexplored Territory Existing.

(By George B. Fraser) (Special to the Capital.) Fort McPhereson, July 12.—The Hudson's Bay steamboat Graham, bearing the first consignment of this season's freight for the north, arrived at McPhereson this morning. By the way, the water in the Athabasca made cutting necessary at the delta. The expenditure of a few dollars by the government could easily make a permanent channel at the delta and prevent the constant shifting. Not a dollar has been spent on this important stretch of water.

Prices Are Sky High. To any observer who has navigated the Athabasca river from Athabasca Landing to Lake Athabasca, the strong position of Fort McPhereson and the need of a railway to that point must easily be apparent. A hundred pounds sack of flour is worth $25 at Fort McPhereson.

Shovel transportation men say it should sell there for $8. Until the cost of flour and other staples is reduced, the country around McPhereson is not likely to be explored for minerals or anything else, by white men.

It has been argued by many that once the railway reaches the Peace River, all the freight for the north will go down that stream. It is 1050 miles from Edmonton to Fort Smith by way of the Peace river. By way of the Athabasca and McMurtry it is just half that distance. With a railway to McMurtry, freight could be transferred from the cars to scows or deep water steamers and taken direct to Smith. The country around McMurtry and to the north is a prospectors' paradise. It is the biggest bit of unexplored territory in existence. As immense quantities of fur lands and oil indications tempt the oil prospector, so does the rock appeal to the miner. At McPhereson there were five outfits of prospectors, two bound for Great Slave and Great Bear lakes, and three for the Liard river. Bruce White and J. G. Devin, of Nelson, B.C., were prospecting for the east end of the Athabasca lake when the Graham cleared. They were well equipped with dogs and supplies.

Scows With Supplies. Lashed around the Graham, when the steamboat left McPhereson, over 14 scows, each carrying about eight tons of miscellaneous freight, for the north. These scows were towed by the Graham from McMurtry. The Hudson's Bay company's steamer, the Princess, towed 12 scows from McMurtry to McPhereson.

On board the Graham are perhaps 10 tons of supplies for points beyond Fort Smith. The Graham will make two more round trips from Smith Landing to McMurtry before being laid up for the winter.

The Princess will supply Fort Liard and other points from McPhereson, and the Graham will also make one trip to the delta on the Peace with freight for Fort Vermilion, which will be trucked up the Peace in winter.

At Fort Smith the steamer Mackenzie River will take the cargo of the Graham, which will be hauled over the portage of 16 miles by horses. The Mackenzie River will steam down the Mackenzie to the delta, where it will be loaded by Mr. McPhereson, leaving supplies at Resolution, Hay River, Providence, St. Mary's, Wrigley, Good Hope and Arctic Red river.

Mr. McPhereson, the Mackenzie River will begin taking on furs, picking up

PEACE RIVER LIBERALS NOMINATE WILLIAM RAE

Receives 30 of 36 Votes in First Ballot—Nomination Made Unanimously—Expressions of Confidence in Government of Dominion and Province.

(Special to the Capital.) Spirit River, Alta., July 19.—At a meeting here yesterday of the Liberals of the Peace River riding, William Rae, of Grande Prairie, formerly of Edmonton, was nominated for the Alberta legislature. Rae received 30 of the 36 votes cast on the first ballot. The votes for the other candidates were merely complimentary. Mr. Rae's nomination was made unanimous. There was a full representation and some of the delegates came over 100 miles from Beaver Lodge, Red Willow Lake, Saskatoon, Grande Prairie City, Keskio Lake, Smoky River, Peace River, Fairview, Waterhole, and Deaf Creek.

Neil McNab, brother of Hon. Archie McNab, was chairman. L. E. Gaudin and W. G. McFarlane were nominated, but withdrew.

Resolutions were passed as follows: "Be it resolved that we the Liberals of the provincial constituency of Peace River at the convention held at Spirit River on Friday the 18th of July, 1913, wish to place on record our hearty endorsement of the policy of Hon. A. L. Sifton and the Liberal government in the purchase of machinery and other pieces of legislation in the interest of the people of Alberta."

LOON RIVER SHOWS GOLD AND COPPER

Discovery Is Made in Wabasca District and Several Claims Staked.

(Special to the Capital.) Athabasca, July 19.—Gold and copper have been found on the Loon river in the Wabasca district north of here. Paul Drussel, who has just come in, reported a number of claims have been staked.

H. MILTON MARTIN LIKES TERRITORY IN THE NORTH

Once the Country Is Opened Up, He Says, There Will Be Great Possibilities.

After spending a month's vacation in the north country during which time they visited all the towns and settlements between Edmonton and Hudson's Bay, H. C. B. H. Milton Martin, former Lemarchand and Baron of Albany returned to the city last night well pleased with their trip, but delighted again to be in Edmonton.

Speaking of their trip to a Capital representative this morning, Mr. Martin said that he was delighted with the trip as it had given him a better insight into the possibilities of the Empire which lies to the north and west of Edmonton.

At Hudson's Hope Mr. Martin states that a large number of gold claims have been staked and there are now some 35 miners who are equipping on the ground. No active development work has taken place as yet owing to the fact that this section is so far isolated from a permanent base of supplies, but once the country is opened up there are great possibilities in store for those who have the hardihood to be content with pioneering for a time.

The packs at all the posts on the Loon river will be taken up to the Mackenzie. The fur cargo will be transferred to the Graham at Smith Landing on the last trip of the latter.

The requisitions for supplies for 1914 from all Hudson's Bay ports are already in and so much of the goods as can be moved this fall will be taken by steamer from Athabasca to Grand Rapids and hauled by horse teams and sleighs during the winter to McMurtry.

IMPERIAL BANK UNABLE TO ASSIST CITY'S FINANCING

Not Prepared to Accept Treasury Notes Should Impasse With Kleinworths Continue

Mayor Short Suggests CITIZENS' DEBENTURES Proposes that Issues in Small Denominations Should be Disposed of in the City at Higher Rate of Interest.

The special appointment committee of the city to report on the financing of the city's program of public improvements held a long session in the committee room here this morning. A new phase of the situation developed when it was learned that the manager of the Imperial bank has advised the mayor that in the event of the city falling to arrange with Kleinworths for the next payments on the debentures, the Imperial bank would not be ready to give any assistance by way of accepting treasury notes for the amount required to finance the city insofar as the work still uncompleted is concerned.

It was then suggested that the citizens might be prepared to pay cash in full for their portion of the improvements or take up an issue of debentures which might be authorized by the city for the completion of the most necessary improvements. These debentures might be made up in denominations of $100 each.

Representatives from three of the paying companies were present at the meeting. In preference to having his company stop the work now being done by them, Mr. Davidson, manager of the Crown Paving company, Calgary, stated that he would be agreeable to carry out the contract in full, and in case the city does not receive the funds, he would be ready to wait until such time as the money has been paid over to the city.

A representative of the Blumhills paving company, Mr. Davidson, stated that he was not prepared to go as far as the Crown Paving company in this matter, but assured the committee that the matter would be taken up with the directors.

The superintendent of construction of the National Paving company, informed the committee that the manager of his company was in Fort George at present. It is stated that a matter, but he assured the committee that the case of the Worswick Paving company, Mr. Worswick stated that his company was only doing the surfacing of the paving laid by the city's construction department.

LINEMAN KILLED BY LIVE WIRE AT FIRST AND VERMILION WHILE CROWD LOOKS ON

Hangs in the Air for Five Minutes While the Deadly Current Runs Through his Body—Current Stopped by the Power House After Telephone Message is Received There—Foreman Brings Him Down—Dies Soon Afterwards.

While engaged in repairing wiring this afternoon at First and Vermilion, Pat O'Neil, a lineman in the employ of the city, came in contact with a live wire, receiving the full charge of 2,300 volts and died on the spot.

As soon as the accident was discovered, the other men who were working on the pole with him immediately telephoned to the electric light and power department and the power on that circuit was cut off. All this occupied only five minutes, but during that time O'Neil was lying with his body across the deadly wire.

Within 10 minutes Mr. Bernhouse, foreman for the city, arrived, and without any gloves or belt immediately set about the hazardous work of lowering the unconscious man to the ground.

O'Neil was lowered into the arms of the waiting policeman he was immediately carried to a shady spot at the side of one of the buildings, and Mrs. White and Mr. Ford set about the work of resuscitation.

Beyond a gasp or two no progress had been made up until three o'clock, and soon afterwards he died. During the 10 minutes in which the unfortunate man hung suspended in the network of wires at least 600 persons had gathered and a police patrol which had been summoned had great difficulty in keeping back the crowd.

When his body was lowered to the ground he was gasping and then fell across the wire, where he remained until he was lowered by means

Electric Contractors and Employees in Conference

Despite the Deadlock Which Seemed to be in Existence They Hurriedly Get Together and There is a Hope That Settlement Will be Reached.

The electric contractors in the city and their employees, who are now on strike, met today in conference, with the object of effecting a settlement of the strike.

The conference was arranged very hurriedly. Following the decision of the employers not to meet the building trades committee of the Trades and Labor council, an apparent deadlock was reached, and another meeting of the committee was called for this afternoon to consider the situation. Last night, however, a meeting of the joint committee of the Electrical Workers' union was held to consider the case to be presented to the building trades committee today. At the same time, a meeting of the employers was being held in the Builders' exchange, and, as the result of an informal conversation by telephone, it was decided that the men and masters should meet today, and, if possible, settle their differences in an amicable manner.

Employers and employees met at 10 o'clock this morning, and the conference proved a lengthy one. The discussion was largely of an informal nature, the men and masters both stating their respective cases at considerable length, and it was understood that the men stated their willingness to waive their demand for an increase of wages, provided that the employers would agree to the principle of closed shops, and grant the Saturday half holiday.

WHOLESALE PADDING OF PAYROLLS IS ALLEGED

Another Arrest Is Made in the G.P.R. Case As the Result of a Timckepper.

Moore, June 17, 1913.—Wholesale padding of pay-rolls for G.P.R. extra gangs around Montreal has been discovered. William McGreger is the latest to be arrested and will come up for preliminary trial Tuesday together with E. B. House and William Barlow. Other arrests are expected at any moment. False names were used it is alleged, and the checks were cashed.

William Barlow, who kept a key in the door of the G.P.R. office, is said to have made a complete confession, implicating a number of others.

TWICE DESERTS WIFE.

Swift, Grand, July 19.—For the second time within four months Jack Ingley, a former policeman here, has been brought back to Swift, current convicted of having deserted his wife and unborn child. Ingley was arrested on charges laid by a young girl and was given the option of $2,000 damages or marriage. He married the girl and has since twice deserted her. This time he was located at Victoria, B.C., and sentenced to four months in the Maple Creek Jail.

SCALED TO DEATH.

St. Thomas, Ont., July 19.—William Gilbert, an employee of the fishing tug Quanaug, at Port Stanley, met death today when the packing of one of the mud plates of the boiler broke and he was scalded by the escaping steam.

ROW IN SENATE ON DEBATE OVER BRISTOW'S BILL

Kansas Told People Who Live in Glass Houses Shouldn't Throw Stones

HIS OWN PLATFORM WORK IS MENTIONED

Measure Beaten by Democrats and Borah and Poinceter After Many Charges and Counter-charges.

Washington, July 19.—Secretary Bryan's policy of lecturing in his vacation time involved the senate in a bitter controversy yesterday when Senator Bristow, knowing the defeat of his resolution directed at Mr. Bryan's action, insisted on being heard in severe criticism of the cabinet officer.

Before the debate ended, charges and counter-charges between senators on both sides of the chamber had brought the senate to a high pitch of excitement. Senator Ashurst produced an old letter from Senator Bristow, which he declared indicated that Mr. Bristow, in 1906, had been perfectly willing to take a full and complete and devote only part of his time to it.

From personal accusations the debate went into the general field of public lecturing and writing, and democratic senators called attention to the Canadian platform work of Senator Bristow and many others, and to the newspaper writing that Senator Bristow had done during the last two years. The Kansas senator emphatically declared that he had never neglected the duties of his office.

"I am not on trial here," he said, "I simply want to show that people who live in glass houses should not throw stones," said Senator Bristow. Senators Tamm, Townsend, Fall and others attacked in strong language the action of Secretary Bryan in delivering paid lectures during a time when they claim public questions required his close attention to the affairs of the state department.

The bristow resolution introduced Tuesday, calling on President Wilson to state what salary would be sufficient to secure all of Secretary Bryan's time, was taken by a vote of 41 to 29, as soon as it came up yesterday, all the democrats and senators Borah and Poinceter opposing it.

MOVING DAY AT TETE JAUNE CACHE

Population Moving Along to Mile 79, New Head of Steel on G.P.D.

Tete Jaune Cache, July 19.—Within a week Tete Jaune Cache as a town will have passed into history. Today the work of packing up everything owned by the various boarding houses and restaurants was completed and the men who have resided here for the past 15 months are moving with all their household effects to mile 79 B.C., where they have again advanced to a distance which will warrant another move. Policy, whisky and beer have removed their cache of construction material and provisions to mile 129 B.C., and expect to move on to Port George within the next few months.

BODY FOUNDED IN RIVER

Winnipeg, July 19.—The body of a man supposed to be a Canadian, was found in the river last evening. The body was very badly decomposed and it is thought it has been in the water for a couple of months. Kelly's last address was Moose Jaw.

Fiendish Torturing of Girls Among Bulgarian Atrocities

Hundred Women are Buried Alive—Notables are Shut Up in a Room and Pierced With Bayonets—Austrian Consul's Reports Dastardly Outrage.

Sofia, July 19.—The parliamentary committee assigned to visit the places at which atrocities have been committed by the Bulgarians, reports from Seres that the city has been completely ruined by fire. Seventeen notables shut up in one room were pierced to the heart by bayonets or thrown into a pit half alive and covered with earth. The committee found the bodies of 100 women who had been buried alive. The methods used were indescribable. The Bulgarians poured petroleum over them and set them on fire. One body was found with the feet cut and the head around the neck. Girls who resisted the men attacking them were mutilated. Fifty-two were buried alive in the open air. The victims numbered 200.

Slaughter in Delibor.
The rest of the population escaped when the city was bombarded, and it was known that the Greek army was close at hand and advancing rapidly. They were defended by Greek and Turkish town guards. There is documentary evidence to show that the slaughter was deliberately planned. Twenty thousand people of Seres are homeless. Four thousand and fifty houses, and 1,000 stores were burned. Merchandise worth $1,200,000 was stolen or destroyed. The number of Jewish houses burned was 2,314. All the schools and synagogues were destroyed.

Vancouver Now Just Like Regular Boulogne Sur-Mer

Or Perhaps it is More Like Dieppe—Beautiful Young Woman Appears in a "Confection" of a Bathing Suit and Spinsters Gasp and Men Wake Up.

Vancouver, July 19.—Memories of Boulogne-Sur-Mer and Dieppe were recalled by those who have visited those fashionable watering places in France when a beautiful young woman appeared at Kildare beach in the latest mode of bathing suit. Spinsters gasped and looked awed. Men who had been dozing on the beach suddenly became wide awake. The suit, was there was a flash of fashion in Parisian style and displayed to best possible advantage the lady's shapely figure.

Friedmann's Cure Develops Bacilli Not Like the Human

London Lancet in Discussing Death of Patient Says it is Significant that Tuberculosis Should Have Developed at Point of Deposit.

London, July 19.—The current issue of the London Lancet, the leading authority on medical subjects, contains an editorial on Friedmann's tuberculosis treatment with special reference to the recent meeting of the Berlin medical society, where specimens were shown.

The subject was an American medical man, who was taken to a hospital where he received an injection of the serum. He died of tuberculosis. The Lancet says that the bacilli were not like the human bacilli.

FIVE HELD PRISONERS

Medicine Hat, July 19.—Andrew Choski, the Galician who was found lying on the street early yesterday morning in an unconscious condition as the result of a drunken brawl, is dying. The inner shell of his skull is badly broken and his condition is such that he has little hope for his recovery.

The Galicians are under arrest and are being held by the police awaiting the outcome of Choski's injuries.

ATROCITIES MAKE KING DETERMINED TO GET TO SOFIA

Constantine Is Incensed by the Crimes Committed and Will Push on

GREEK ARMY IS NOT FAR FROM CAPITAL

Signing Peace on the Field of Battle Is Preferred to Opening Negotiations Through Mediation of Russia.

Athens, July 19.—Mr. Venizelos had a long conference with Elm Dzelidoff, Prince of Sandanika, the Russian minister in Athens, who is the Russian agent in the Balkans. The prince is a member of the Russian royal family and is a close friend of the king. He is determined to get to Sofia.

It is felt that the allies will have great difficulty in imposing diplomatic conditions on Bulgaria, and they are determined not to give way and will advance on Sofia if they can. The Greek army is only about 65 miles from Bulgaria. The king is determined to get to Sofia.

Port Picturesque Spot

Port Chippewyan is a picturesque spot. There are about 60 log buildings at the post. The Hudson's Bay Company has a large store here. The water front is dotted with Indian tepees, each with its quota of musical drums, which are beaten when the Indians arrive and bring in fish for the dogs. The hungry animals swim out in the lake to catch the fish and howl to be taken aboard. They will not touch the fish, however, until they are served. A compass was put on the Graham's launch enough fish for 25 cents to feed his 24 travelling companions at breakfast this morning.

Losos Reach Millions

The material losses of Seres including those of the Americans, Austrians, Germans and others amount to $12,000,000, reimbursement for which in the form of a special indemnity from Bulgaria is being asked by Greece. The minister said the district from Seres to Kavala and Xanthi now occupied by Greeks within their own borders exported annually tobacco to the extent of $20,000,000 while the exports of Greece amount to $30,000,000.

Mr. Stratis, minister of marine, states that the Greek losses up to July 19, 1913, are $2,000,000 killed and wounded, including a great many officers.

There are 10 foreigners here, including several English and Americans, also very large commercial interests. There are 20,000 Greeks in the town. A report has come through by runner that Xanthi has been totally destroyed. The town is now a mass of ruins. The Bulgarians entered the town and systematically massacred all, including the foreigners. The Bulgarians say they will respect no flag.

ROADS WILLING TO THAT'S CO-OPERATE

Announces Readiness to Abide by Its Decision as to Questions to Consider.

New York, July 19.—The eastern railroads, engaged in a controversy with their 80,000 trainmen and conductors, indicated last night their willingness to leave with the board of mediation and conciliation appointed by President Wilson. The decision as to which questions are to be submitted for arbitration under the Newland amendment to the Fruman act.

In a letter to the leaders of the trainmen, the conference committee of managers said it seemed to them that the immediate difference of opinion relating to the points to be submitted for arbitration is a matter to be considered by the board of mediation and conciliation.

The managers had references to the demands that "all questions of pay and working conditions" be settled along with the men's demands for better wages.

FOXES SENT EAST WILL HAVE TO BE INSPECTED

Results of the Complaints of the Interior Quality and Disease Condition of These Country.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., July 19.—In order to meet the wishes of fox hunters and the interests of the province, the federal department of agriculture has arranged for the inspection of all foxes brought to this province and for quarantine in case of disease.

A LOVELY BABY BOY

This Mother is quite Enthusiastic over a well Known Food.

Mrs. J. W. Pateman, 34 Harriet St., Toronto, writing about Neave's Food, says: "When I first knew one of my friends, her baby Jack was eight months old and dying by inches. She had tried three foods because her Jack could not digest them. At last, I asked her to try Neave's Food. At the end of a month, Jack was rapidly gaining flesh and was able to take his food. Neave's Food saved his life. And it did. She put the baby on Neave's Food and at the end of three months, the baby was twice the size."

Have never seen a bigger, stronger baby than mine for their ages and weight. Neave's Food is the best I have ever seen. It is the most perfect food I have ever seen. Mothers and prospective mothers may obtain a free tin of Neave's Food and a valuable book "Hints About Baby" by writing Edwin Ullie, 14 Front Street West, Toronto, who is the Canadian agent. (Mention this paper.) For sale at all druggists.

ON THE SAVINGS BANK QUESTION

Following our TALK TO THE SAVINGS BANK INVESTOR and getting down to Brass Tacks, we wish to point out that we are not trying to sell you any Real Estate, so don't get scared.

We have a straightforward proposition to put before you where we can show you a profit of two, three or four times the money you put into the deal about Christmas time and in return we ask you to write us and we will place our proposals before you.

These who have written us already in connection with our previous advertisement are today well pleased with our system as outlined to them and have supported us, and we ask you to do the same.

You can readily understand that we cannot do any more than suggest what our system is in the scope of a newspaper advertisement, so you have got to get busy and write us.

We can promise you that you will be more than pleased with our plans, and whether you do business with us or not, you will acknowledge our system to be a sure business investment.

You may have a few dollars lying idle in the bank at small interest, we can show you how to make it grow. You can make this money you stand to make a profit of from 200 to 150 per cent, in a few months' time, don't you think it's very foolish to neglect the chance of even inquiring about it and getting to know the facts for yourself?

We are as pleased to talk business with the man or woman with the $10 as the man with the $1000, so don't imagine because you have only a few dollars that we are not talking to you. We really are, so write today, and tomorrow you will be congratulating yourself on being let in on a proposition on the ground floor. These kind of propositions seldom get beyond the first few with the substantial Bank Accounts who are today passing you in the street in their $3000 automobiles, and perhaps you may have been asking yourself how they manage it. Well, we can show you how they manage it and we can also show you how in your smaller way you can do the same.

One of our clients has been working hard for the last eleven years as a lumber-jack and saved up $2000. By Christmas time he will be worth over $10,000 by following our guidance and coming in on this same proposition which we are offering you today.

RUSSIA PRESENTS NEW DEMANDS TO CHINESE REPUBLIC

Action of Czar's Government Has Caused Consternation in Peking.

ORIENTALS ANNOUNCED—TO BE SUZERAIN ONLY

Cabinet Already Has Approved the Agreement Entered into Between the Two Countries Last November.

Peking, July 19.—Russia's action in presenting new demands to the Chinese government, requiring the recognition of the full autonomy of outer Mongolia and declaring China to be a suzerain only, has caused consternation here.

High officials say that the cabinet has approved the Mongolian agreement between Russia and China, which the government intended to sign it.

The delay in doing so, it was stated, was due entirely to hostile members of the assembly and to the amendments presented. These amendments were designed not to alter the terms of the agreement, but to prevent future misunderstandings between China and Russia.

These officials also said it had been generally hoped Russia would agree to the recognition of the Mongolian question in regard to the terrible disorders in inner Mongolia, which were ending the foreign relations which were leading to frequent border hostilities.

London, July 19.—President Yuan Shih Kai will meet the representatives of the southern rebels tonight, presumably to discuss a compromise, said the Pekin correspondent of the Times. He adds that the movement in China appears to be mainly military and political and that there is no evidence of a widespread demand by the people for a change in government.

HISTORIC FROG LAKE HAS PICNIC

Harmony Exhibit Speaks Well for this New Settlement.

Little over a quarter of a century ago the attention of Canada was directed to the district of Frog Lake, when, during the days of the Bell rebellion, in 1885, the entire white population of the place, excepting Mrs. Gowanlock, Delaney and Mr. B. Cameron of the Hudson's Bay Company, were massacred by the Indians.

Some few years ago the land in the vicinity of the Indian reservations here was thrown open for settlement. Since that time a very prosperous and thriving community have developed.

On the 1st of July a large picnic was held on the east shore of Lake Laurier, an ideal spot for a pleasure ground. Almost everyone in the district was present, including many visitors from Mooseva, Ferguson flats and Lea park. The afternoon was fully occupied in the various sports that were heartily entered into and thoroughly enjoyed by both young and old.

Special interest centred around the closely contested horse races, men's foot races and tug-a-war. A game of baseball between Ferguson Flats and Frog Lake resulted in victory for the home team, being one of the principal events of the day. Dancing in a very large and attractive pavilion commenced at 3.30 in the evening and continued to four a.m. The following morning, the most attractive feature of the day was the walking contest, which the four prizes were awarded to the most deserving couples by most competent judges, Geo. Phillips, mayor of Kildare, Mrs. Blacker of Ferguson Flats and F. Bowtell, Frog Lake. The first prize was awarded to Mr. Maxwell and his sister Mrs. A. Chiblock, of Mooseva, the second to Mr. N. J. Litchfield and his sister Mrs. N. W. Taylor of Frog Lake; the third, to Mr. David Briskow and his sister, Mrs. Mazon Briskow of Frog Lake, and the fourth to Mr. and Mrs. Passmore of Mooseva.

The most noticeable feature throughout the entire proceedings was the absolute harmony which existed among those gathered to possess themselves of new homes from all countries and climes, which speaks well for this new and thriving settlement.

Much regard was expressed when a telegram was read by the Rev. Mr. England, from our representative, the Hon. P. E. Lessard, M.P., stating his hearty approval of the settlement.

We are as pleased to talk business with the man or woman with the $10 as the man with the $1000, so don't imagine because you have only a few dollars that we are not talking to you. We really are, so write today, and tomorrow you will be congratulating yourself on being let in on a proposition on the ground floor. These kind of propositions seldom get beyond the first few with the substantial Bank Accounts who are today passing you in the street in their $3000 automobiles, and perhaps you may have been asking yourself how they manage it. Well, we can show you how they manage it and we can also show you how in your smaller way you can do the same.

One of our clients has been working hard for the last eleven years as a lumber-jack and saved up $2000. By Christmas time he will be worth over $10,000 by following our guidance and coming in on this same proposition which we are offering you today.

This proposition has nothing to do with Real Estate in the ordinary sense of the word, nor does it call for you buying lots and having payments to meet with all the attending worries and troubles. It's a straight deal and a sure one, and your liability is limited to the amount of money paid in.

Write today and have no regrets tomorrow.

THE COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Now that commission form of government is attracting attention and that new recruits are coming into the camp every day, there is one thing which must be clear in the public mind if commission government is to succeed, and that is that there can be no commission government with an elected council to hold a check rein over them. Calgary ran into the mistake of attempting to split the difference between an elected commission with full powers and an elected council by electing both council and commissioners. Calgary is suffering the penalty of its hybrid system today just as Edmonton is, the situation in both cities being in all essential respects the same. Calgarians have an opportunity to select their commissioners, it is true, but so long as the council has the control of the exchequer and can, by withholding consent to expenditures, nullify the actions and plans of the commissioners, there can be no centralization of authority and no scope to the purpose of the commissioners.

The true commission form of government does not provide for a diffusion of authority and limitation of powers, based upon the exploded belief that the public can be protected by a system of checks and balances. It is founded upon the axiomatic fact that centralized authority, clothed with complete powers, furnishes scope for those clothed with that authority to give effect to their purpose, and it safeguards this authority in the only reasonable manner by making those holding the authority directly responsible to the electors who, in all cases, are the source of the authority.

The human race has labored long in the timorous belief that the safety of the public lay in withholding with one hand the power given with the other, and so it has encumbered legislatures with senates, cabinets, with the veto power of governors, and councils with statutory limitations which could have no other basis for their foundation than the belief that the public were not competent to choose those who should conduct their business. Possibly the best illustration of this strange belief in the necessity of barricades erected against the legislative and administrative authority in the interests of public safety is the case of the United States of America which elects a congress of three hundred men and a senate of eighty to make laws, and then places within the absolute and irrevocable power of nine men upon the supreme court bench to set these laws aside.

The commission form of government takes no cognizance of this ancient fetish. It names no intermediary to check or limit the authority of those whom it places in control, but reserves the referendum as the effective machinery through which to veto the acts of commissioners who may err in their interpretation of public judgment and the recall as the weapon with which to club out of office the elected servant who proves himself recreant to his trust.

NOT DEALING WITH PERSONS BUT WITH A CONDITION

Those members of the city council who constitute the car-barn committee, or the anti-Chalmers committee, whichever one chooses to call it, should take into consideration the fact that they are dealing not with persons but with a condition founded upon the practice of long standing and in conformity with precedents too numerous to mention. The Elizabeth street deal, involving $500,000, the new city block, the purchase of the Hudson Bay park, and half a dozen other transactions of consequence last year, were all over-expenditures.

The fact that these were all over-expenditures, and that the city over-expended to the extent of nearly three million last year, does not make the car barn over-expenditure right, any more than any other over-expenditures were right.

But to sort out the car barn, because that appears to be the job which can be most definitely loaded upon the particular commissioner with whom the mayor happens to have had the difference, to parade this as though it had been the one and only case of over-expenditure worthy of attention, and to seek to lodge in the public mind the belief that the whole issue for this particular over-expenditure is upon the one commissioner who has harvested the mayor's detestation, is altogether too thin a proceeding to be accepted by the public as a disinterested effort to remedy the affairs in the city offices.

The Capital holds no brief for any commissioner or any ex-commissioner, or any civic employee, but the Capital was fighting the battle for regularity in city affairs last year, at a time when every one of the members who was a member of last year's council and who is now on the committee was sitting tight and allowing the very over-expenditures to go along with less consideration than would have characterized "Death-Valley Scotty" or "Bet-you-a-million" Gates.

And having been in this position, and they in that, the Capital feels quite at liberty to point out that Commissioner Harrison's present stand is absolutely correct when he declares that the fault is not in the men entrusted with the administration but with the system under which they are called upon to administer; as a consequence of which the remedy is not to be found in pestering out of office those chosen to administer, or setting out through one-sided procedure to "get" the individual who may have happened to merit personal disapproval.

Considering the attitude of commendation and endorsement adopted by the Bulletin and the Journal toward the Armstrong administration after it had embarked upon the over-expenditure which was so apparent to all last year, the present self-righteous and uncaring horror of these journals toward the same thing today is altogether too ridiculous for consideration.

THE SCHOOL BOARD'S ATTITUDE ON THE FAIR WAGE CLAUSE

The school board takes the remarkable stand that as the men engaged on the school buildings are asked to work nine hours instead of eight, the school board's responsibility in the matter ends; that so far as the board is concerned the fair wage clause has been observed.

This attitude sets at defiance the whole fundamental of the fair wage clause. The purpose of the fair wage is to so regulate wages that in the matter of wages each contractor will be upon an equal basis with any other contractor. In tendering, every contractor is required to figure on that minimum. What men are willing to work for cannot be allowed to enter into the case, for the reason that a contractor is allowed to accept the offers of those driven to it to work for less wages or longer hours, that contractor is immediately in a position to undersell those who observe the clause in its entirety. When the school board permits a nine-hour day, the ninth hour to be paid for at the same rate as the other eight, it places the contractor enjoying this advantage in a position of advantage over other contractors in competition with whom he received the contract. The ultimate working out of such an arrangement must be to destroy the fair wage clause and drive wages down through the medium of competition to the place where the work will be done by those who are completely unable to accept any wages whatever, and to maintain them while they are doing the work. The penalty which the city pays for this arrangement is that sooner or later it will have to feed, during the time they are not working, the families of the men who have not the opportunity to make enough in working seasons to take care of themselves and their families in spells of enforced idleness.

THE SYNDICATE AVENUE PROTEST.

Residents of Syndicate avenue are giving form and purpose to their protest against the action of the city council in handing over the old car barns to the school department to be used as a school instead of as a park. If this protest goes to the courts, as now seems probable, there is little doubt that the city will be defeated. The property in the first place was donated to the city for a park. It was not donated with any other intention, and "The Syndicate," as the group of people who made the donation were known, made their intention plain in the donation. The city has no more right to apply this property to another purpose than had the provincial government to apply the Waterways bond money to a purpose for which the money was not originally raised. Both cases are exactly on all fours, and the result in the Waterways case is altogether too well known to admit of any doubt as to what would be the outcome should the Syndicate avenue residents undertake to fight their case.

JUST PARAGRAPHS

While the visiting municipal delegates are in the city today there are two exhibits which the mayor should see that they have an opportunity to observe. One is Tenth street, at the C. P. R. depot, not paved, and the other is Forty-second street, being paved. The two, taken together, will give the visitors an insight into some things that even many of the citizens do not understand.

Circus day being here, those adults who want to give the circus a try will find difficulty in rounding up a juvenile or two to furnish the necessary reason for neglecting their business.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

Giovanni da Verrazano, an Italian navigator who commanded the first French expedition to America sent out under royal auspices, arrived at Diego on this date in the year 1498, after a successful voyage in which he traversed the coast of North America from North Carolina to Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. Upon his return from the country which is called "New France," Verrazano wrote a letter to his royal patron, Francis I., in which he gave an interesting description of the Canadians of the early sixteenth century. He wrote:

"The people were entirely different from the others we had seen, whom we had found kind and gentle, but these were so rude and barbarous that we were unable by any signs we could make to hold communication with them. They clothe themselves in the skins of bears, lynxes, seals, and other animals. Their food, as far as we could judge by several visits to their dwellings, is obtained by hunting and fishing, and certain fruits, which are a sort of root of spontaneous growth. They have no pulley, and we saw no signs of cultivation; the land appears sterile and unfit for growing of fruit or grain of any kind. If we wished at any time to traffic with them, they came to the sea shore and stood upon the rocks, from which they lowered down by a cord to our boats beneath whatever they had to barter, continually crying out to us not to come nearer, and instantly demanding from us that which was to be given in exchange. They look from us only knives, fish hooks and sharpened tools. No regard was paid to our courtesies; when we had nothing left to exchange with them, the men at our departure made the most brutal signs of disdain and contempt possible."

TO A DEAD MOTHER.

Since thou hast gone, I often see
 In garden closes
 Faint visions of thy face
 Amid the roses
 Some semblance of thy beauty's bloom
 That chanced around thee,
 But never was I faint to say
 "This rose is thine," until today—
 Today I found thee
 Where poverty in squalor lies,
 Within the city,
 Where summer burns not never sighs
 With breath of pity,
 How little speaks of thee; but there
 Thy rose of roses, sweet and fair,
 The white rose in its broken pot
 An attic window's garden plot
 I saw adorning

Ne'er bloomed a sweeter flower of love
 In greenest valley,
 Than that white rose, set high above
 The squalid alley.
 If anywhere thou hidest thine art,
 Here would'st thou hide the mother or heart

In self-abasement,
 This rose must house thy spirit mild
 To cheer the little sickly child
 Behind that casement,

HEART OF CANADA IS SOUND ON NAVY

Minister of Finance Declares that that Method Simply Has Delayed Action

London, July 19.—"The heart of Canada is sound on the naval question and who can confidently be relied upon to do duty both to herself and to the empire," said Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance in the Dominion parliament.

He declined to discuss the naval policy of the government, but gave the assurance that the Canadian people were most desirous of having their share in providing for the common defence of the empire and would cheerfully and loyally approve whatever outlay might be necessary to that end. The two great political parties had most un happily differed radically as to the method, said Mr. White, and in consequence action had been delayed. It is however, only delayed he observed emphatically.

FOR A FOX RANCH IN EDMONTON DISTRICT

Prince Edward Island Man is in the City Investigating With View to Finding a Location.

To investigate conditions in Alberta with a view to starting a fox ranch close to Edmonton W. J. Trotter, of Summerside, P.E.I., is in the city today. Mr. Trotter is heavily interested in two of the largest fox ranches on the Island, but has about come to the conclusion that Alberta offers better opportunities for the raising of foxes. Mr. Trotter was in the city last fall and that time completed negotiations for the purchase of 20 black foxes. These were captured by trappers in the north country and shipped to the farms in Prince Edward Island last month.

In discussing the fox breeding industry with a Capital representative this morning, Mr. Trotter stated that the demand for live animals far exceeded the supply. It was true that a large number had been captured in Alberta this year and shipped east, but those taken from their native haunts did not produce for quality to those raised and cultivated in captivity. He was of the opinion that for the next 20 years, at least, that the price for live foxes would show no appreciable decrease.

At the ranches in which he is interested more applications for live foxes have been received this year, than could be filled, even with the best of luck in the next four years.

Mr. Trotter is investigating the merits of the district around Athabasca and announces that it is very probable that a fox farm will be established in that locality. This fall several pairs of foxes would be shipped from the east as the nucleus for the farm in case it is established.

THE USUAL ANSWER

A man making a visit to his home town was invited to address the Sunday school.
 "I am reminded," he said, "of the career of a boy who was once no larger than some of you little fellows. He played truant when he was sent to school, went fishing every Sunday, ran away from home when he was 10 years old, learned to drink, smoke tobacco and play cards. He got into bad company, spent his time in stables and barns, became a pickpocket, then a forger, and one day, while in a state of intoxication, he committed murder. Children," he asked, in an impressive tone, "where do you think that man is now?"
 Willie rose to his feet and quickly shouted:

Novel Designs in Bathing Suits ---By MAY MANTON

THE BATHING HOUR

BATHING suits are extremely apt to follow the general trend of the season. This one includes the fashionable kimono sleeves and a panel at the front that gives a slender effect to the figure. In this case, it is made of plain bathing suit satin trimmed with figured, and satins and silks are being much used. They are light in weight and pleasant to wear and they are smart in effect. Those made for the purpose will stand wear admirably well. Mohair is quite correct, however, and mohair is always a standby. It can be trimmed either with braid or with silk or in any such way. The bloomers are separate and preferred the suit can be worn with lights instead. The back gore of the skirt gives a panel effect. The neck edge that is square at the front and V-shaped at the back makes a pretty feature.

LITTLE girls always like bathing suits that are made with bloomers and bloomers in one. The skirt can be worn or omitted on occasion and often it is pleasant to swim without its incumbrance. This skirt is made in three pieces and is joined to a little all-overs. The suit beneath consists of blouse and bloomers cut together, but stayed by a belt at the waist line. The bloomers can be left free or drawn up and the sleeves can be left loose or gathered into bands. The slightly open V-shaped neck is extremely fashionable and the collar is a pretty one for girls who like a low neck. The suit is a very pretty and attractive one, and white has the advantage of having no color to lose.

THERE is a certain Greek suggestion about this bathing suit designed for small women and young girls that is extremely charming. The long waisted loose blouse and the straight skirt with curved edges all tend to that effect. It is made with separate bloomer, and these or tights can be worn as liked. There are many materials that might be used but this is the season of silk and satin for bathing suits, as well as other costumes and what is known as salt-water silk is having great vogue. In the illustration, dark blue is shown with trimming of black braid and color of black and white striped silk. Mohair is one of the standbys for bathing suits, however, and is being extensively used and the same color effect can be obtained in that material. Black is preferred to color by a great many women and black is pretty with trimming of white. Brown is being much used and brown touched with brilliant red is attractive. The skirt is made in five gores and joined to the blouse. The little collar is an exceptional one. The sleeves can be made just as illustrated or cut without the opening and straight at the lower elbow. The bloomers are closely fitting over the hips. Blue salt-water satin with collar of white and trimming of black braid would make a pretty effect, or, if it is desirable to introduce a touch of the season's bright color, bright red could be used for the collar.

BATHING costumes are exceedingly handsome this season. They follow the general trend of fashion and give a slender effect and they are made from a variety of materials but silk and mohair may be said to be favorites, the silk being the kind designed for salt water use. This one includes a two-piece skirt that can be made open or closed at the sides but, as open effects make a feature of the season, it is especially to be noted. The blouse is a simple one with prettily shaped sleeves and the bloomers are dark fitted, consequently perfectly smooth over the hips. This suit is made of black satin and trimmed with white and is extremely effective. Dark blue is liked and brown and tan are used and now and then lighter and brighter colors. Dark blue silk or satin with trimming of plaid makes a pretty costume and either black or dark blue can be trimmed effectively with red, for red is fashionable for all uses this season. There are braids that make handsome trimmings to and braid is always easy to apply. Poplin, moiré and brocaded materials are extremely fashionable this season and they are all shown in bathing suit fabrics as well as in those of other sorts. This costume is adapted to them all. Blue moiré with trimming of black and white striped silk would make an exceedingly handsome costume. Black or blue poplin with trimming of checked material would be pretty and white moiré silk always makes effective trimming for satin. THE thermometer has reached a point in the past few days high enough to render thoughts of the sea and the daily bout with old Neptune inspiring and the proper costume for the bath and swim can not fail to be of interest. Some of the "wise virgins" who are ever prepared in advance have doubtless already provided themselves but there is always a generous number of laggards in such matters and to them suggestions as to how to equip themselves for the salt-sea bath will not come amiss.

TIME was when the costume with which we entered the sea was mainly remarkable for its deforming qualities but today we may go forth gowned as tastefully for the day and many of the suits are not alone handsome but combine beauty with utility. At every sea-side resort there will always be found certain women of the poseur type who don conspicuous costumes and roll upon the beach, who are up to date in all the details of the toilette yet who seldom enjoy the sea, but by year and season by season, it becomes daily more fashionable to swim and to dive and to make the daily bath an athletic exercise in the true sense, with the result that fashionable costumes must be satisfactory from every point of view.

JUST now we are offered really wonderful fabrics for satin is made expressly for such use and is warranted to be uninjured by the worst that sea and sun can combine to do. There is a very light weight corduroy that has been tested by salt water before being offered in suit form.

There is the taffeta that no number of plunges will injure, and there is always the good old standby, mohair, which can be trimmed effectively and is always light of weight. Ready-made suits include a considerable number in very bright colors and some glaring effects, but the best taste calls for conservatism and the smartest women choose black, blue, brown and gray, trimming with touches of brightness in a way to produce really picturesque and interesting effects. Models give evidence of the tendencies of the season and can be had in Balkan style and in Russian style, while they are worn with sashes, some of silk and some of the material. For further ornamentation there are even covers of bonnets made of rubber which may be donned if the coquette's tendency will go so far. Hats have become charmingly becoming creations, instead of ugly and protective coverings and the new shoes are modelled much after the Greek being simply sandals that are laced over the instep and about the ankle in a most effective manner. Bloomers that match the costume are quite correct but a great many ways like to wear the combination tights, or tights that combine with a low neck and sleeveless bodice, putting their keeps them perfectly in place without hampering bands of lace. These tights can be had both in waisted and in silk and are quite ideal for their purpose. Corsets, too, are not always possible in these days but to be recommended for they are made for the swimmer, they are not hampering, they are very little bonded but they give just a slight support and they unquestionably mean a trim effect. The best ones are of French make, the material a sort of open mesh that is elastic and is pliable yet firm enough for the purpose and the very few bones that are used are short and by no means stiff while there are those supporters that are really perfect in their way.

THE Balkan idea is put to exceedingly good use in bathing costumes and a very handsome suit that is fairly typical is made of black satin. The blouse is made with slightly open neck rolling collar and loose sleeves that extend just to the elbows while the skirt covers the knees and is finished with overlapped edges at the front. With this suit is worn a wide Balkan sash of plaid silk and a sailor tie of the same that is knotted just at the front of the neck. The cap is one of the very new ones.

EMPIRE SEASON 1912-13 MOST SUCCESSFUL

VAUDEVILLE AT
ORPHEUM WELL
BALANCED BILL

Stellay, Matthew and Billie
Taylor Good Fun Makers in Travesty on Headliners

A pair of fun-makers of rare ability will headline the Orpheum vaudeville bill at the Empire theatre for the first half of next week. Stella Mayhew's irresistible brand of comedy has gained her recognition as one of the foremost comedians of the American stage. Her partner, Billie Taylor, her present vaudeville partner, scored the emphatic hit in last season's New York Winter Garden production, where they remained for over an entire year. Miss Mayhew has played with a score of musical comedy successes. Their present offering is a travesty on vaudeville headliners and is punctuated by several songs written by Mr. Taylor and, of course includes the "coon song" for Miss Mayhew knows few equals in imitating their type of song.

W. L. Abington, who is making his first vaudeville appearance, and his wife, Mrs. Abington, who is also a well known in the east, but probably better known in London, his native country. There for several years he was a member of the famous "Follies" and the greatest male stars in America. Mr. Abington has appeared prominently in the support of Mrs. Pisko and in number of other vaudeville acts, and is appearing here in vaudeville in dramatic sketch entitled "Honors be satisfied," from the pen of Charles Kline. The play deals with a New York actor who is a vaudeville star, and is intensely dramatic and has to do with husband-wife and a platonic friend.

Dramatic Coprano.

Alma Violette Soprano. Coprano with a voice of exceptional range and timbre. She has several distinct parts in the prima donna of important importance, because of the excellence of her voice and because of her own personal attractiveness. In vaudeville, Miss Soprano has a new type of act, a series of songs.

Two exceptionally clever entertainers are Eddie Mack and Dot Williams, who introduce the most intricate dance steps seen here in many months. Their feature is the "stairway dance," a New York craze from "The Count of Luxembourg." Continual betterment is the motive power that keeps Mack and Williams' feet in operation and the rigorous steps executed are the source of continual delight.

Kouney, Keady and Platt furnish a masculine and melodious offering in the new idea, "Mr. Nobody." Arguments between two blackface comedians annex the payment for carrying so heavy grips, during which Mr. Nobody is much discussed, and a bright song are the implements they use in the extraction of laughs from the floorshow.

Some Music.—Musical violin music is always a pleasure to hear, played by a master and Mr. Ward Baker is an absolute master over the violin. "There are few violins which will allow the technical capacity of the player to be shown," declared Mr. Baker to be another of the violinists who have been heard in America and abroad, but he has at which no teacher of music is able to play. He has a gift of his own, saying there is passion, peace, storm and sunshine. The violin in his hands is a soul, for he is a true artist and a true musician. He is a violinist of the M. and Mrs. Bartholdi have a bird that is (in the vernacular) a bird, a bird of the 90's and the 20's, the most amazing things. Probably the most remarkable feature is that of a melody. There are among the birds of the world and the birds of the world. Somewhere away deep in the jungles of these creatures of the jungle there is a bird of the 90's and the 20's. This Bartholdi's have developed in their pots to such a degree that they are now a magnificent thing in their performance.

WONDER OF JUNGLE.

Containing a quart of clear, pure water to every root, the "water vine," black, snake-like, leafless stem dropping from the ceiba and mahogany trees to which it has climbed, is one of the wonders of the Guatemalan jungle. When the stem is cut the water starts forth in a refreshing stream. The moisture is drawn up from the soil and filtered through the pores of the plant.

Zella Roberts Tells Convincingly Why Statue Was Not True to Nature.

Zella Roberts, appearing at the Pantages next week in an equilibristic act, was visiting a friend one day who led her into the library.

"There," said the friend, as she pointed to a bust of white marble, "what do you think of that?"

It was a bust of a young woman coiling her hair, a very graceful example of modern sculpture.

"Zella Roberts looked at it a moment and said, 'It isn't true to nature.'"

"Why not?" the friend asked.

"She ought to have her mouth full of haispins," said the vaudeville girl.

Cartier, the magician, who will appear with his own company and 15 accoutrements and apparatus next week at the Patheaus, is conceded to be one of the best of his kind who have seen him to have no equal in the world. He is a prestidigitator, a past and present. Cartier is a student of the occult; his entertainment is weird and at the same time instructive; old tricks he makes new, he fills his performance with the funniest scenes and most astonishing situations until his audiences everywhere convulse themselves with laughter. Mr. Cartier has a number of elaborate and bewildering illusions, which he will present here for the first time. His masterpiece is said to be what he calls levitation, described as the most costly, bewildering and hazardous business known to magicians. In this he has to keep his feet on a

And unlike the minds of scientists and philosophers. After patient research and profound study, this subtle magical achievement has been evolved, and its perfection represents 15 years of abstruse thought and diligent experiment. Another feature of Carter's performance is "A Night in China," in which he impersonates the famous Chinese court magicians. This is an exposition of ancient Oriental necromancy, wherein the wonderful sorcerers of China are imitated and impersonated. Immense objects are produced from nothingness and other seeming miracles performed.

VAUDEVILLE WILL REIGN AT EMPIRE FOR NEXT FOUR WEEKS

Season Just Closed Was Excellent One From Audience's Viewpoint—Good Things Promised for Next Season—
This Week saw Attempt to Elevate Vaudeville Stage.

[illegible]

Edmonton saw for the first time the Imperial Sarah Bernhardt, and humbly bowed before the greatest actress a nation whom the whole world has elected to honor. In vaudville, there came some opera stars like Tullio, and then the famous beauty, Lady de Botto, called the Jersey Lily and Olga Petrova.

There have been many other opera geists. There was the floss of Panama, the Merry Widow, the revival production of the Prince of Pilsen, Raymond Hitchcock and Rosa Zabelle in "The Red Widow," and last and best of the small Frisky Pansy, which closes tonight.

Next season the management of the Empire promises Musgrave's Blue Bird, the same production prepared by the New Theatre company, William Packerham's splendid production of Julius Caesar, in the cast of which are Julia Opp and Tyrone Power, the actor with the starlike voice who played the Grain Digger in Hana Komeyda's "Servant in the House," is another one of the possibilities of the coming season. Margaret Anglu is also to make a western tour in four Shakespearean revivals, "The Taming of the Shrew," "As You Like It," "Twelfth Night," and "Antony and Cleopatra."

The vaudville for the first six nights of the week, was more than ordinarily good, and remarkable for the fact that it embodied an attempt to show the farcical as an allegory, "The Kingdom of Desires," Julius being the speaking, the audience not only saw the ideas behind the symbols, but enjoyed the feeling of high browness. It gave them to applaud what had a Shakespearian flavor to it.

The piece was ridiculously costumed, but the lines were spoken so well except where "Love" showed a tendency to get in the character of the "more-sinned-against-than-sinner" type, and by the long drawn out "revue" and the cleverly chosen bits.

One of the Fa

ing" is singing, this having to listen to indifferent actors and actresses deliver yards of stupid dialogue is tiresome in the extreme.

The Pantages has been drawing good audiences this week with a very indifferent bill. Comfortable chairs with plenty of room to sprawl and gay surroundings are excellent means of disarming criticism. You just cannot maintain a critical attitude when you are so comfortable.

Up at the Lyceum there has been a fresh, strong breeze blowing all week. "Up at the Lyceum" has the same effect as if you opened a window and let in a whiff of sweet country air, reminiscent of clover, and lilac bushes and clumps of sweet william and the freshly turned furrows.

That was Deanna Thompson's masterpiece that drew crowded houses. It was excellently staged and sympathetically presented, and the audiences that attended were not ashamed of the handkerchiefs they used so freely. It was a good thing, indeed, when plays like "The Old Homestead" fail to make an appeal.

THRILLING STORY OF "QUO VADIS" IN PICTURES REPLACES VIVID DESCRIPTION WITH REALISTIC ACTION

THE STORY OF "QUO VADIS" IN PICTURES!

This is the biggest and most splendid undertaking yet attempted by the camera man and the moving picture director. It is the work of the Cines-Kleine Co.

This $50,000 reproduction of the most thrilling incidents in Rome's history, during the reign of the pitilessly cruel and inordinately vain ruler—Nero—look months to complete!

The picture story follows the book in general, but it is far more thrilling!

It SHOWS the burning of Rome, the flight of its inhabitants, the falling of buildings!

It SHOWS the martyr Christians within a few feet of a band of real lions, in the great Roman amphitheatre!

It SHOWS the luxurious banquet scene where Nero and his followers made merry!

This picture-drama is arranged in three acts.

The opening scenes show the interior of the luxurious baths of Petronius, who is one of Nero's particular favorites. While he is being crowned by some of his slaves, Petronius, his nephew arrives. Petronius tells Petronius of his love for Lydia, the beautiful ward of a Roman general. Petronius says he will secure the aid of Nero in the interest of his nephew's suit.

His efforts are successful. The next day Lydia is taken from the home of her guardian and placed in the care of Aetia, who is a lady of favor at the imperial palace. Petronius, her guardian, accompanies her from her guardian's home and promises to care for her always in case of danger.

The feature of the first act is the IMPERIAL BANQUET, a magnificent affair in Nero's palace. Lydia and Aetia attend it, and there Lydia meets Petronius and Petronius. Petronius, indulging too freely of the wines provided, makes violent love to Lydia. And in the midst of this scene, Petronius, the giant, appears and carries her off.

Petronius attempts to learn Lydia's whereabouts and employs Chilo, the cool-headed and spy, to aid him. At last Chilo learns that she and Petronius were with the Christians at a banquet, not far from Rome. Together, they go to take her away from Petronius, proposing to use main force if necessary. But Petronius is too strong for them. Petronius is wounded and taken to the dwelling where Lydia lives, to be cared for. He recovers, asks Lydia to forgive him and marry him. Instead she flees from him!

Don't miss seeing the biggest and most splendid undertaking yet attempted by any moving picture concern. This $50,000 production of the most thrilling incidents in Rome's history during the reign of the pitilessly cruel and inordinately vain ruler, this picture shows the burning of Rome, the flight of its inhabitants, the falling of buildings, and the grand and luxurious banquet scene where Nero and his followers made merry. Quo Vadis (means, whether you go there), follows the book in general, but it is much more thrilling. The clergy and public are invited at large to attend this our grand double performance. We can assure you that there will be nothing shown at any of our performances that will offend the most fastidious; you may bring your mothers, wives, and daughters with the utmost confidence in what we say. Remember, no tickets sold for our Sunday entertainments.

There was an exciting game of ball between the Morris team from town and the boys from the Sturgeon district. The former won, the score standing four to two. Races and an impromptu football game completed the afternoon's entertainment.

DULUTH WINS IN FREIGHT RATE CASE

Reduction Is Ordered and Present Charges Are Declared to Be Discriminatory.

Washington, July 19.—Duluth, Minnesota, won a substantial portion of its freight rate battle before the interstate commerce committee today when a reduction of class rates to that city from eastern points was ordered and the present rates were held to be discriminatory.

Duluth's contention that rates on steel and rail traffic from the east ought to be reduced to that of the wharves, however, was not sustained.

SINGULAR BURGLARY STORY.

Brandon, July 19.—A singular story of attempted burglary is occupying the attention of the local police today. Between 12 and 1 o'clock last night a son of the proprietor sleeping over the jewelry store of W. E. Crawford, heard a noise and states that on going down he encountered a man in the store. He commanded the man to throw up his hands at the point of a gun, and the man did so, backing out of the store. Chief Herry and seven plain clothes men were on the spot within a few minutes, and up to 5 o'clock, used every means to try and locate the man, but to no avail.

GALLERY GOD NOT
KIND TO ASPIRANT

Frank Mills, appearing with his own company in a comedy drama at the Pantages next week, tells the following story of a young girl who aspired to join a company he was managing some years ago. "It was another night at a Boston theatre, and Mr. Mills was selecting some material from the best performers.

The girl was given an opportunity to prove her claim to availability on the professional stage. She was billed to render a song, the refrain of which was, 'Autumn days have come, ten thousand leaves are falling.'

The aspirant for high honors was in so extreme a state of excitement that she took too high a key. 'Ten thousand—' she screamed, and then stopped short for want of breath.

At this critical juncture some irrepressible 'aud' in the gallery, perhaps an auctioneer by calling, shouted a stentorian tone, 'Start it at five thou-

THE DEED DONE

The suspense was awful.

The great room was full of people. Hence I were folly to say that, as he tried to cover his face with his hands, there was no one there to see.

Every moment added new spectators to the grisly scene and each new spectator added a new suspense.

He moved his hands feebly.

'Unless some of you who call yourselves men have the courage to stop me,' he cried, 'in ten minutes I will strike!'

Still more spectators drifted into the vast hall; yet not a single one, not even a married one, moved towards him. He spoke again:

'Four more minutes yet remain ere I strike. Stop me ye who dare, or the deed is done!'

Yet no one moved.

'One minute more I strike,' came the cry. 'With no one stop me!'

No one stooped him.

So the clock struck.

CHRISTIANS ARE SACRIFICED TO HUNGRY LIONS IN GREAT ROMAN AMPHITHEATRE

SCENE IN "QUO VADIS."

NERO SITS AND LAUGHS AT THE AWFUL SPECTACLE BEFORE HIM.

The third act shows the gorgeous spectacles in the amphitheatre in Rome. There are the chariot races, actually run. There are the gladiators in actual warfare upon each other. And there are Nero and his courtiers, and the great crowd looking on.

Then comes the perilous scene of the Christian martyrs who are dragged into the arena. A trap door opens and up come real, live, roaring lions!

Vintius fears Lydia may be among them. Suddenly a great bull dashes into the place with a woman fastened to its back. While Vintius cries, 'Lydia, Lydia!' and almost swoons, Petronius, the great, jumps into the arena, grips the horns of the monster and turns its head so far around that it collapses.

Amid the uproar which follows, Vintius flings himself into the arena, bears his chest to slow the scars received in Roman wars, and pleads to Nero for the life of Lydia.

Finally urged on by the infuriated masses, Nero turns up his thumb, a signal of grace.

While this scene is going on in the amphitheatre, two figures are seen on the Apollon way, walking from the city walls. They are Peter and Nazarius.

As they go they suddenly see a vision: the figure of Christ!

In a quivering voice, Peter says, 'Quo Vadis Dominum?' (whither goest thou, O Lord?). The answer is, 'Shouldst thou abandon my people? Will so in time to be crucified again? They turn toward Rome and retraced their steps, with bowed heads.

Galba is proclaimed emperor. Nero flees from the city and tries to slay himself.

His cowardice overcomes him at the last moment and one of his followers does the deed for him.

It takes a little over two hours to show the picture.

Scenes, manners, customs, incidents, modes of living and costumes of the day of Nero are all impressively re-

"ABOUT MORNVILLE IS LOCATED THE EDEN OF THE PROVINCE"

Beautiful Farming Country Is Called the Land of Sunshine and Plenty.

(By W. I. Clark.)

The marvelous growth of our great capital city during the past two years has been the cause of much wonder and amazement upon the part of those who were not so well advised as to the great development taking place in this big western province. In fact it might be truly said that many even in Edmonton a few years ago were skeptical as to the future of their own city. They no doubt believed that some day it might take her place with the other cities of Western Canada, but that she should assume the proportions of a metropolis in the course of a few years was more than they dared prophesy. Yet, today you ask them and they will tell you to look at the vast amount of building going on upon all

TO BOARD OF TRADE IS DUE VERY MUCH CREDIT

Writer Does Not Want Edmonton to Forget that Her Greatness Largely Depends Upon Country at Her Doors.

It is something nearly home which is its best worthy of our admiration and attention.

Beautiful Spot Promised.
If you have a day to spend with your pen, I would suggest that you spend it in traversing the country which I have spoken of above. The trip from Edmonton to Morinville, thence west to the beautiful valley of Riviere que vinet that when the true value of this land is realized it will take a great deal to buy very little, for the value is in the land and can be easily taken out.

To sing the praises of a country such as this is as easy as to repeat the songs of our childhood, yet this write up would not be complete if I failed to give space to an institution that has done more for the farmers in the Morinville district than all the farming societies in the community. The institution I refer to is the Morinville Board of Trade. If there is a board of trade in western Canada working as hard in the interest of its farming community, I have yet to hear of it. They have incited new ideas among their farmers, have demonstration plots of their own hand, the machinery, which has to be installed to carry the Xmas lighting peak, is idle for a great part of the time. This difference in the nature of the demand for power is always based upon the load factor of the demand.

The electric light department has stated that it will have a maximum demand at Xmas 1913 of 3,500 K.W. and the street railway department has stipulated for a maximum of 3,250 K.W. Taking as before our total output as 10,000 K.W. for the year, the relative load factors of the two utilities will be as 2.66 to 1 in favor of the street railway. If the department consumes as much power as the electric light department—an assumption which our records justify very approximately—

"Based on the relative charges on the load factor alone, the gross station cost (including obsolescence) of 2.54 cents, would be made up of a cost of 1.30 cents per K.W.H. for the street railway load and a cost of 2.7 cents per K.W.H. for the lighting load. If the maximum demand of the electric light department is less than estimated by that department, the load factor will be better and the disparity between the relative costs will be less. This I consider will probably be the case.

"The load factor is the dominant consideration in determining relative costs of supply, but it is not quite everything, as the relative costs are, of course, influenced by the costs of operation and maintenance and the efficiency of the various units of machinery instead for the respective loads."

LETHBRIDGE PLANS TO GET FACTORIES

Company Is Formed for the Purpose of Attracting Small Industries

Lethbridge, July 19.—Following out the suggestion made by Joseph P. Gray, commissioner of commerce and manufacturers on his first trip to Lethbridge, the announcement was made that the Business Development Corporation of a company to be known as Lethbridge Industrial Limited, which company is composed of local business men and others, has for its express purpose of creating a stepping stone which should result in the location here of small industries.

"The company will be capitalized at $25,000," W. D. Ives, president of the board of trade, is one of the prime movers of the new concern, which is patterned somewhat after the lines of largest company of business men in Saskatchewan.

Mr. Ives made the announcement under the expression of pleasure of the Lethbridge crowd, who to a man pronounced it just what Lethbridge has been striving for during the last two or three years. It was the general opinion that the formation and operation of the Lethbridge Industrial Limited would crystallize the efforts of the board of trade, the city council and other civic bodies bent on building up the city industrially.

The president of the board also made the announcement that they had one concern already lined up, and as soon as the company can acquire a site and erect a building, an industry will be located in the city.

ides, and to their ever increasing bank levies.

Edmonton, they now tell you, is bound to be the biggest and grandest city in Western Canada, and if you are least inclined to doubt their statement they will tell you to "look at the country around Edmonton." The Peace River country they point to with pride is the coming land of promise, and they must carry you away with their enthusiasm, but, I wonder, even among those if they fully realize just what "the country around Edmonton" means to the future of that great city. They point with pride, and justly so, to the great lands of the North, but it seems to me that they have utterly forgotten or do not fully realize the importance of the great country which lies almost at their own back door.

Does it seem possible to them I wonder that just beyond their very limits lies one of the greatest and grandest countries upon the face of the earth, a country almost a garden, productive and rich; the home of many and prosperous people. We are sometimes too close to our eyes beyond the limits of our own greatness seeking for other, without stopping to realize what opportunities and blessings are in our hand which is our home, yet to say that there is nothing in Alberta greater than the beautiful country which surrounds the busy little town of Morinville upon all sides, and all within a very few hours ride of our own capital city, Edmonton.

Surrounding and Plenty.
The writer has travelled the prairies of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, has seen the beautiful valleys of British Columbia and the rich agricultural lands of the West, but here there is nothing more beautiful than the splendid stretch of farming country that surrounds the Morinville district. Here, indeed, is the land of sunshine and plenty, the stockman's paradise, the fairman's ideal and the "farmer's home." Yet I wonder how many of our enthusiastic Edmonton boosters ever refer to this beautiful spot when they speak of the country that will make Edmonton the city of the future. To no mind the backbone of Edmonton's greatness is not hundreds of miles away, but right here at her very doors, at no loss with pride upon the vast fields to the north, but in so doing it might be well to remember that there so that farmers will be encouraged to buy new seed and cultivate according to scientific methods, and had advertised their advantages far and abroad. Exhibits worthy of the largest fairs have been taken and displayed by this institution, and it was only last year at the Edmonton fair, the second of its kind in Canada, that they carried off the highest honors for their enterprise and work. They realize fully that the day is not far distant when tourists to Edmonton will wish to visit the garden spots of that city, and they are preparing their farmers for the opportunities soon to come.

Edmontonians can sing with pride the songs of their fair city. They can excite others with the optimism of their greatness, yet away and above all is this great country to her north and west, the country which in future will be the garden plot of Alberta. The Peace is a great country, the north will mean much to Edmonton, but the one thing that has given Edmonton her start is the great country surrounding her limits. Take pride in your fair city, citizens of Edmonton, but do not forget or overlook the cause of your greatness. Come and see the beautiful district for yourselves, and I venture to say that you will return to your city more strongly enthralled in your ideas and enthusiasm for the city

A PROLIFIC COUNTRY

Morinville Board of Trade, with its exhibits at many fairs, has already become famous as the locality which grows the finest grains and grasses. Last year Morinville took the gold medal at the Edmonton exhibition.

surrounds the busy little town of Morinville upon all sides, and all within a very few hours ride of our own capital city, Edmonton.

Surrounding and Plenty.
The writer has travelled the prairies of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, has seen the beautiful valleys of British Columbia and the rich agricultural lands of the West, but here there is nothing more beautiful than the splendid stretch of farming country that surrounds the Morinville district. Here, indeed, is the land of sunshine and plenty, the stockman's paradise, the fairman's ideal and the "farmer's home." Yet I wonder how many of our enthusiastic Edmonton boosters ever refer to this beautiful spot when they speak of the country that will make Edmonton the city of the future. To no mind the backbone of Edmonton's greatness is not hundreds of miles away, but right here at her very doors, at no loss with pride upon the vast fields to the north, but in so doing it might be well to remember that there for here the farmers believe that their horses, horses and dairy cattle are never failing crops, and they reap their harvest often. It is not an uncommon thing to find a farmer with a pen of 100 hens on hand as well as a bunch of dairy cattle and horses, nor is it an uncommon thing to see as many as six cars of logs leave Morinville in a single day.

With such advantages as close markets, splendid rail facilities and ideal farming land, it is indeed surprising that the land should be held so cheaply as it is at present. Many farmers of course realize these advantages, and will not part with their land at any price, but what must we think when we can buy land in this beautiful stretch of country, easily within 25 miles of the city of Edmonton, for as low as $25.00 per acre. Land that is equal and better than Illinois and Ohio land at $50.00 per acre. What will this land be worth when Edmonton reaches the 150,000 mark? I am con-vinet that when the true value of this land is realized it will take a great deal to buy very little, for the value is in the land and can be easily taken out.

Dishonest Policy
The American public buys annually, under the name of leather 1,200,000 pounds of glucose and epson salts. All American leather, the Bureau of Agriculture declares, is swathed with eight per cent, on the average, of these adulterants. Senator Hoke Smith, discussing these figures, said:

"Adulteration is dishonesty. No honorable man would adulterate. They who adulterate are responsible for the low opinion of American business that in two many places prevails—that low opinion which finds vent in the story of Blank.
"When I started to do business," said Blank to a son, "I had nothing—no money, no credit, no nothing."
"His eyes shone grimly behind his glasses as he added:
"But that I started to do business with had—had, mind you—a great deal."

The latest statistics confirm the fears of trade union leaders with regard to the increase of claims for sick benefits that has followed on the passing of the Insurance Act. The available figures relate to unions with an aggregate membership of just under 400,000 and show that, whereas the sick claims previous to the passing of the act represented about 2 per cent of the total membership, the claims up to the end of the March quarter under almost precisely similar conditions reached 4.2 per cent.

It is pointed out that an explanation of this increase is partially proved by the fact that many members were content previously to remain at work in spite of illness because they could not afford the luxury of idleness, while under the Insurance Act persons leave work with advantage to themselves. This, however, does not make union leaders at all sanguine of opinion that there is considerable malingering, particularly among women workers. The figures show the percentage of sick claims to be 3.8 in male unions, as against 6.0 in unions partly or wholly composed of women members. The corresponding figures before the passing of the act are given as 1.71 for men and 2.1 for the latter. The position will be fully discussed at the coming conference of the Congress of the Trades Unions and the Trades Union Congress.

Chronic Cured By Medicated Air

No Drugs to Take—You Simply Breathe a Healing Balsamic Vapor.

Every Breath Cures Healing Balsams to the Sick, Bore Places in the Nose and Throat.

Montreal, this time gives splendid praise for the modern way of curing colds, catarrh and bronchitis. Instead of taking sickening drugs into the stomach, or using an old-fashioned remedy, the sensible man nowadays breathes the soothing vapor of Catarrhoxone and gets well right away. This is exactly what Mr. Joseph Dossie did, and writing from his office at 37 St. Paul Street, he says:—

"I suffered for years with the worst form of chronic bronchitis, throat and nasal catarrh. I tried all kinds of syrups, ointments, tablets and washes, but they proved ineffective. In fact I could get no relief. I read in the Montreal Witness of Catarrhoxone and bought an outfit. In a few hours I got relief. The air passages of my nose were cleared out, and I was able to breathe freely. My throat was strengthened—my voice improved—and no longer ached and coughed. The effect of Catarrhoxone was wonderful. Now I am well and happy. It is no throat disease. I urge every one with a weak throat, with a cough, cold or a touch of catarrh to use Catarrhoxone freely."

Get the Dollar outfit—lasts two months and is guaranteed. Smaller sizes 25c. and 50c. each. All storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhoxone Company, Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

EUROPEAN LABOR AFFAIRS TOLD IN LONDON LETTER

The great dispute of the moment in the United States continues to be that of the "unskilled" and semi-skilled workers in the Midland metal trade. These are men who have struck by the thousands in the last few weeks for a minimum weekly wage of $8.75 and also for the readjustment of their rates and piece work. The number on strike at the moment is between 30,000 and 40,000 and another 10,000 men are for the moment withholding their notices pending negotiations. The union represents firms engaged in the manufacture of machine tools, and in the course of the last fortnight, very great suffering has, of course, been felt by the thousands of their families and this is being kept down to a minimum by outside financial aid. The other unions have voted relief funds whilst the strikers organize daily numbers of money-raising marches throughout the surrounding country and towns. One of these marches, which extend to London.

The other important strike of the moment also concerns very poorly paid workers. These are the agricultural laborers, who, as already reported in these columns, have lately started to organize in a surprising and most successful style. Statements of their demands have also been given here. This week it remains to note that the first strike of farm laborers on record in this country has taken place, the locality being Southwold, Lancashire. The workers on the farms have "downed tools" and are picketing areas, where imported labor is employed to be used. The primary object of the strikers is, of course, to prevent farm produce from leaving the farms. Bands of cyclists have been organized to watch the whole district and bring information to the strike committee at once. The cars laden with black leg produce are then stopped and unloaded or turned over police protection is excessive in some cases as many as 50 policemen accompany convoys of farm produce from the struck farms into Liverpool markets. Under the control of the National Laborers' union the men are determined to refuse to handle anything short of a 12-hour day and Saturday half-holiday, a minimum wage of $6.00 a week and the recognition of the union.

In the way of peaceful gains of the moment is the red letter day of June 20, amongst the brass workers. On that date the executive committee of the National Brassworkers' association, meeting at Birmingham, unanimously approved the settlement of the wages question as negotiated on behalf of the thousands of brass workers and men by W. J. Davis, general secretary of the union.

The settlement gives: $6.25 a week minimum to improvers; $7.25 a week minimum to semi-skilled workmen; $7.75 to lathe and vice hands of more experience; $8.75 to those more advanced; and $9.75 to all round workmen.

These are to be the minimum weekly wages and represent advances of 40 cents, 36 cents, 12 cents, 30 cents, and 18 cents, respectively. With respect to place workers the present sliding scale is 20 per cent on all prices and is extended a bonus. This it is agreed shall be 25 per cent—an increase of 5 per cent. These advances are to come into effect on the third day of June in August next, and remain in force for three years.

FORT GEORGE

"CARNEY ADDITION" IN FORT GEORGE

Up to the present time the most of the development has taken place on District Lot 937, which lies on the Nechaco over front and adjacent to the railroad property. Central avenue is already firmly established as a business centre, and here the hotels, retail shops, stores and banks are located. Fraser Avenue divides D. L. 937 from the railroad property, and as a business street bids fair to become second in importance only to Central Avenue, for it extends from the Nechaco River to the Fraser River, and will undoubtedly have steamboat docks at each extremity.

South Fort George can grow only westward, and on the proposed plan of the subdivision of the G.T.P. property the important streets run into Fraser Avenue at or near Carney, furthermore, property over two miles farther than Carney has been subdivided into town lots and is now selling. Considering, then, that Carney is in the direct line of present growth and development of the business section of Fort George, and likewise, South Fort George, and lies adjoining the G.T.P. property, the important streets of which lead to Carney, you will readily see that Carney is the best buying in Fort George today, and your last chance to buy "Inside Property" direct from the owners at "before the railroad" prices. Watch this space.

CITIZENS OF EDMONTON

LABOR NOTES.
Complaint has frequently been made by miners in other districts that the South Wales miners pay only 25 cents each a month to the Federation whereas elsewhere the contribution is 36 cents and in some cases even 48 cents. The conference held at Cardiff on June 21, had before it a proposal from the executive to increase the contribution to 32 cents, but it was defeated by 136 votes to 114 and on a second vote by 1,602 to 1,052. This is a much nearer approach to endorsing the increase than has yet been recorded, and another sign of grace in the decision of the conference in favor of meetings being addressed throughout the coalfield by members of the executive with a view to educating the miners to the need of increasing the contribution. The conference also agreed to the taking of a ballot under the new Trade Union Act to enable the South Wales Federation to continue its political activities. A special conference of the South Wales Miners' Federation was opened at Cardiff on June 23. The chief matter for which it was convened was the new schedule of wages drafted by the executive council which it is proposed to enforce in all new collieries and seams newly opened. These rates which the executive proposed should be insisted upon before work was commenced in new pits and seams are considerably higher than those generally in force and above the minimum fixed by Lord St. Aldwyn. The schedule also provides that pending the settlement of price lists, when the collier falls to earn $13.23 a day, plus percentages, that amount shall be made up. Other provisions are an eight hours' day for all workmen above as well as below ground, payment of six shifts for five worked on afternoon and evening shifts, and the payment for each item and no dead work.

The conference was one of the largest held by the federation, over 150,000 members being represented. With a few minor amendments, the chief of which was that which was adopted by a vote of 11,000 to 1,000, the schedule was unanimously adopted, and the executive

LONGEST HUNGER STRIKE

The longest hunger strike on record was carried out some years ago by a Frenchman named Gendry, who was arrested for murder in circumstances which left no doubt as to his guilt. He determined to starve himself to death in order to escape the gallows, and from the day of his arrest refused to eat in spite of every effort on the part of the prison authorities who tried tempting him to eat by placing the most dainty meals in his cell, and when that failed, attempted forcible feedings. Gendry held out for thirty-three days, at the end of which he died.

EVERY!

A French woman paid $100 for a pair of stockings for her husband. The stockings were made of silk and were very fine. The woman was very proud of them and showed them to her friends. One day she was walking in the street and she saw a man who was carrying a bundle of sticks. She went up to him and asked him what he was doing. He told her that he was carrying the sticks to the market. She told him that she had bought a pair of stockings for her husband and that she was very proud of them. He told her that he had seen a pair of stockings in the market and that he had bought them for his wife.
